Charitable/Governmental Gift Solicitation Waiver Application – Baltimore Main Streets – Mayor’s Office of Small and Minority Business Advocacy & Development - Pending BOE Approval: City Officials Brooke Bomberger, Ginny Lawhorn, and Khadeeja Muhammad joined the meeting. Bomberger stated that Baltimore Main Streets will celebrate its 25th anniversary in 2025 and plans to host a series of events to celebrate the 9 main streets through a lunchtime vendor event. With this event, SMBA&D would like to raise money for their main 9 streets corridors. The goal is $25,000 for each organization to further efforts in revitalization.

Board member Newman inquired if businesses would have to pay for a vendor spot. Bomberger stated that there will be no fess for these businesses and that this was aimed at bringing business to them. A gift card for an as yet unspecified amount would be issued to people who RSVP to the event. Vendors would then invoice SMBA&D for those charges incurred on the gift cards.

Board member Newman asked if there would be opportunities for other businesses to participate. Lawhorn explained that there are 9 Baltimore Main Street program partners. Each main street will select retail and hospitality partners to join. The event will take place downtown so that it doesn't create any type of territorial barriers or allocation of attention to one main street over another. The Board moved to approve the waiver application with a vote of 3-0.

Charitable/Governmental Gift Solicitation Waiver Application – Local Progress Impact Labs – Office of Councilman Kristerfer Burnett — Pending BOE Approval: Councilman Burnett joined the public session and explained that Local Progress Lab is a part of a national think tank that works with local officials. Councilman Burnett serves as the chair of the Board of Directors for the organization and conducts training of municipal officials through their progressive governance academy. He hopes to bring the training to Baltimore.

Chairman Fogleman asked if all members of this program were elected officials. Councilman Burnett confirmed and explained that the program also is open to staff such as policy directors and chief of staffs. The targeted audience here is the incoming council. Board member McCauley asked if Councilman Burnett would be fundraising for this organization and if it was politically affiliated. Councilman Burnett stated that The Local Impact Lab is nonpartisan and does not engage in political activism or back any campaigns.

Chairman Fogleman asked about the organizations IRS status. Councilman Burnett affirmed 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) status. Board member McCauley asked who is donating money to this organization. Burnett answered that the contributors and donors tend to be philanthropic organizations all over the country. Board member McCauley asked if Burnett was a paid employee, contractor, or consultant. Councilman Burnett stated that he is a paid contractor as listed in his financial disclosures. He does not get paid for the fundraising. This is a 6-month program, and the funds raised would pay for both staffing and logistics, office space and print materials.

The Board voted to approve the application, contingent on the Councilman providing additional information.
